WANTED—BACKBONE, AND PLENTY OF IT

There was an important difference between the remarks made by J. R. Boyle at Wednesday night's meeting, and those of the other aldermanic candidates—a difference which may not result in Mr. Boyle's favor when the votes are being counted, but which indicates him as a valuable member of the council, should he be elected. The issues before the people in the contest are important and the consequences of the action to be taken necessarily far reaching. But most of the candidates were more careful to make a pleasing statement, than to express their views and opinions fully and definitely. Mr. Boyle may have been wrong in his opinions, and wrong in his expression of them. But the people need more than anything else, in the new city council is men who have views, and who will take the responsibility of expressing those views, and acting on them at the right time and place. We have had plenty of good councils in the past, and plenty of good men in those councils; but most ratepayers will agree that what we have lacked is men who, having opinions, would stand by them on all occasions, even at the risk of not being considered good fellows.

The action of the present council in regard to the street railway agreement is a case in point. There is probably not a member of the council who fully believed in that agreement, and yet they practically accepted the first proposal of the company; which was afterwards condemned at a public meeting. An amended agreement was offered, and although it does not appear that it was really approved by the majority of the council, it was squeezed through—the responsibility being placed upon the people instead of being assumed by the members of the council, as was their duty. It may be said that the vote of the ratepayers on the question properly relieved the council from the responsibility. When a council is elected, it is that it may shoulder full responsibility, except in certain cases specially provided. The vote on the street railway agreement was not one of those cases. Instead of the members of the council, who had every opportunity to consider the merits of the case, deciding it, they referred it to the ratepayers, who had not a fair opportunity to consider it, for decision. The result is that the city is tied up to an agreement that no one is responsible for, and that everyone agrees has not turned out to the advantage of the city.

Under the new conditions, and with the large responsibilities assumed by the city in the financing and management of its public utilities, and especially under the new administration by commission, we need as we never needed before, men in the council who, when they think something is wrong, will get up in their places at the council board and say so, and then will vote as they talk.

A city which has gone so heavily, and is going so much more heavily, into public ownership, must not only have business men in the council, but must have men who will see that the city business is run in a business way, without fear or favor, and who will at all times be ready to take full public responsibility for their expressions and votes.

ALBERTA COLLEGE

Contributed:— On Wednesday evening the prayer meeting was led by Mr. Cox of the College. The meeting was held in the library and had a fair attendance.

Skating has become an item of interest to the students. Arrangements are being made for a College rink on the tennis grounds. The students anticipate great things. The gymnasium has now a complete basketball court, and plenty of room for hand ball. Some of our students, who have completed their courses are about to leave us. We are sorry to lose them.

Miss Sherman of last year and this also, now leaves for her home. Several others are going.

More students after Xmas, more rooms for them, more work by them and more fathers to fly in the spring examinations. This is the latest news.

Arrangements are being rapidly made for the annual dinner of Dec. 2nd. A big time is expected. A petition in favor of earlier breakfast on Sunday morning fell beneath the power of a small but influential opposition. It seems hard to eradicate that evidently human failing of even to set it back thirty minutes.

FORTY YEARS A PRIEST

Last Thursday, the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of the Proclamation of the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception, was a red-letter day for the parishioners of St. Joachim.

The Rev. Father Leduc was the celebrant of the early Mass, and he addressed a large congregation in a few touching words.

At 10.30 a solemn High Mass with Rev. Father Grandin as celebrant, Rev. Father Philippe as Deacon and Rev. Father Girard as Sub-deacon concluded the services of the morning. During the High Mass the choir contributed admirably to the solemnity of the occasion, by each member ably rendering the part assigned him.

At 4 p. m. the Children of Mary, and all the children of the parish met for the purpose of presenting addresses in English and French to the Rev. Father Leduc being the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of his ordination.

In the evening at 7.30 the beautiful edifice was again filled to its utmost capacity. The Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament with the singing of the "Te Deum" closed the devotions of the day. Then addresses were read in English by Mr. Beck and in French by Mr. Roy, to all of which the Rev. Father replied in appropriate terms.

The church presented a most beautiful sight. Nearly a hundred lights were on and around the main altar, interspersed with palms and other foliage, caused the enraptured onlooker to forget that he was residing in the far North-west.

The address as read by Mr. Beck was as follows:—

To the Very Reverend H. Leduc
O. M. I.
Parish Priest of Edmonton and Vicar-General of the

Reverend Dear Father:—

To-day is a day of special gladness to all faithful Catholics, the Jubilee of the definition by the infallible Successor of St. Peter of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Mother of God.

The joy of the day is heightened for the Catholics of Edmonton, inasmuch as it coincides with the Fortieth Anniversary of the day on which you, who have been our beloved pastor for so many years, were raised to the high and holy dignity of the priesthood.

Forty years ago you were living in your far-distant native land, which we believe to be the title of "The Fair Land of France," though its face now be disfigured by sorrowful hands, and its faithful children suffer for a time a cruel persecution for conscience sake. You were then but a youthful member of that religious congregation, whose name, taken from the glorious title of Our Lady, we celebrate to-day, and whose charity has, during many years, laid wide and deep the foundations of the Faith in these vast domains.

You were ready to go to whatever quarter of the world your superiors should see fit to send you, "to preach the Gospel to the poor," and in the Province of God, the Diocese of St. Albert, and for the most part the Mission of Edmonton, were to receive the benefit of your never-fading zeal and devotedness for the cause of the Holy Church.

We, your parishioners, wish to crown your forty years of loving and successful labor with our heartiest congratulations, and to declare our sincerest wish that not only may you celebrate amongst us the Golden Jubilee of your priesthood, but after that be with us "ad multos annos."

To these expressions of our deep respect for you we gladly add the small accompanying purse, though we know well that it will but assuage the desire of your heart as it says for you: "Lord, I have loved the beauty of Thy House, and the place where Thy Glory dwelleth."

Signed on behalf of the parishioners of Edmonton,

N. D. Beck,
Napoleon Leclerc,
Stanislaus Larue,
Geo. Roy,
John Kelly.

Arctic Mail Service

Regarding the new mail service to the far north from Edmonton, the Free Press in a recent issue says:—

On the 29th of November a mail packet left Edmonton for Fort Macpherson, a post of the Hudson Bay company on Peel river, near the mouth of the great Mackenzie river, within the Arctic Circle. From Edmonton to Macpherson the distance is 1351 miles, and in that great stretch of wilderness there are only thirteen posts where the couriers will be able to rest and replenish their supplies. The mode of conveyance will be by dog train, and the packets, one for Fort Resolution, and the other for Macpherson and intermediate points, will be limited to 300 pounds each and each letter must not exceed an ounce in weight, so that those sending letters will probably resort to the old method when postage was high and paper scarce, of using this paper and writing small. Newspapers, magazines, etc., will not be accepted for the mails. The postmaster-general has made a contract with the Hudson Bay company to convey and deliver the mails, and trusted and experienced couriers will be entrusted with the work. The mails for Resolution and Macpherson will be dispatched from Edmonton together, and the actual trip to the Arctic will begin at Resolution.

A dog train outfit consists of six husky dogs, large wolf-like animals of remarkable strength and fleetness; a toboggan, a driver, and a road breaker. The driver runs behind the toboggan or sled, and manages the dogs, and at difficult parts of the trail will assist the dogs by pushing a pole attached to the centre of the load. The road breaker runs in front of the dogs and breaks down the snow with his snow shoes, thus making solid footing for the dogs. They travel at the rate of 20 or 30 miles a day according to the depth of snow encountered.

The entire journey from Resolution to Macpherson will be made on the Mackenzie river for the treble purpose of getting the best road, obtaining shelter from winds, and most important of all, to keep in touch with Indian encampments, in order to secure fish for themselves and dogs. Fish is the principal article of diet in this far north region, though dried meat, deer ribs and grease are used in considerable quantities, but cannot always be obtained. Each dog is given a fish, night and morning, and has to subsist and do his work on that fare. They actually thrive on it, and winter is the picnic time for them, for during the summer they are allowed to starve.

The couriers, excepting when at the company's posts, sleep outdoors, wrapped in their blankets of wool and fur, beside a large camp, and are held to sleep by the yelping of prowling wolves that are kept at a safe distance by the glare of the fire, but if a dog should wander away from the camp it would be instantly killed and devoured. Down towards the Arctic Circle the days grow short, with but four or five hours of sun, light, but the couriers travel as long as there is the least twilight in order to make their average daily distance. The courier who takes the mail to Macpherson will not reach his destination until some time in February, and it will be next July before he gets back to civilization.

The mails are made up at Edmonton for the following places, the names of the parties to whom the packets will be delivered at the respective places being given: Fort McMurray, Wm. Gordon; Fort McKay, H. E. Co's officer; Fort Chipewyan, R. N. W. M. P. officer; Smith Landing, J. Hurst; Fort Smith, H. E. Co's officer; Fort Resolution, Ed. Nagle; Hay River, Rev. Mr. Marsh; Fort Providence, R. C. Missionary; Fort Simpson, H. E. Co's officer; Norman, H. E. Co's officer; Good Hope, H. E. Co's officer; Macpherson, R. N. W. M. P. officer.

The following is a table of the distances between the various posts on the route:—

Edmonton to	miles.
Lac La Pêche	105
Fort McMurray	252
Fort Chipewyan	509
Smith's Landing	599
Fort Smith	555
Fort Resolution	749
Hay River	819
Fort Providence	917
Fort Simpson	1,078
Fort Wrigley	1,214
Fort Norman	1,398
Fort Good Hope (Arctic Circle)	1,572
Fort Macpherson	1,854

A second mail is to be despatched from Edmonton on February 7, 1905. The mails will also be dispatched this winter from Peace River Landing to Vermilion on that river. Peace River Landing is 495 miles from Edmonton and receives a mail once a month.

Another new winter mail service in the north will be a fortnightly service between Icelandic River and Norway House, at the north end of Lake Winnipeg. Also during the first week in December a Hudson's Bay winter packet will leave Winnipeg for the north. The mounted police department have made arrangements with the Hudson's Bay Co. to carry a police mail to Norway House. From there it will be taken to Fort Churchill on Hudson's Bay. Only letters will be taken by this packet.

This is the longest pioneer mail route in the world. That vast territory drained by the Mackenzie river and its affluents is rich in natural resources of economic value, such as asphalt, salt, coal, oil, gold, timber, fish, and will doubtless become in time one of the most important sections of the Dominion. At present it is occupied by but a few Indians, Esquimaux, missionaries and fur traders. To students of ethnology, geology and natural history this region presents one of the best fields for investigation on the American continent. As yet scientists have but skimmed it over.

To The Electors of
The City of Edmonton.

Having expressed my views at the meetings held for public discussion of municipal affairs, it is scarcely necessary for me to say anything further through the press. Suffice it to say that I stand for:—

1 No extension to the street railway company, and the city getting back the charter promptly, in case of default by the company.

2 Having complete estimates prepared as soon as possible of all taxable property and property exempt under the new system, that the ratepayers may, with full light on the subject, be in a position to judge as to whether that system should be retained or discarded.

3 That the city press be notified of every council meeting in time to have a representative present, and every important question be recorded.

4 Full and free discussion of any new subject on its merits.

Respectfully yours,
J. R. BOYLE.

A DETERMINED ASSAULT

ON PORT ARTHUR FORTS

The Trenches Before the Outer Forts a Perfect Hell. Hundreds of Soldiers Mowed Down

Port Arthur, via Tien-Tsen, November 29 (Editors probably held this despatch at headquarters for censorship).—The general assault on Port Arthur, which began at noon on November 26, is still in progress. First an attempt was made to capture the forts at the Riplund and Kekewan mountains by enveloping the city from the east. A strong force then pushed up the Shishi valley and attacked the supporting fort in the rear of west Riplund mountain to envelope the city from the west. The attempt failed after furious fighting which lasted from noon on November 26 until after dawn on the following day without cessation. The assault in the early morning began with a tremendous bombardment of the forts of the western half of the eastern fortified ridge by a battery on the crest of a ridge to the rear. For hours the whole western half of the fortified ridge was deluged with heavy shells. At noon the principal line of fortifications was a perfect hell of bursting shells, and the spectacle was more wonderful than anything previously seen. The front lines of infantry strongly re-inforced the attack simultaneously along the entire line from the west of Kekewan mountain to the west of Riplund mountain. Through the haze caused by the smoke of the bursting shells the assaulters could be seen emerging from the cover of the artillery as well as swarming up the fortified ridges at a half-dozen different points. Guns blazed from the Russian posts where advances were made in the open. The men went down by hundreds. The forts were belching out smoke and bursting shells and the rampart walls were black with assaulters, who on reaching the crest met with an awful fire from within the forts, which swept down line after line of Japanese. As fast as the assaulters were repulsed, more Japanese swarmed up, only to be mowed down in turn.

The Russians resisted stubbornly on the eastern extremity. The Japanese attempted to capture the Russian trenches midway of the west Kekewan slope. The Japanese paralleled some thirty-five yards of the Russian trench line, and an entire regiment charged across the trench, but the Japanese were driven back to the parallel with great loss. At nine o'clock the Japanese again captured the trench, and made desperate, but unsuccessful efforts to cross the pits. The struggle continued until 2 a.m. when the Russians again recaptured the trench, which was girded up with dead bodies.

The Assassin of Von Plehve

St. Petersburg, December 9.—The indictment upon which Sasseff, the assassin of the Minister of the Interior, Von Plehve, and Sikerifsky, his accomplice, will be tried on December 12th has been shown to the Associated Press. Both men belonged to a fighting organization of social revolutionaries, the object of which was to overthrow the autocracy, and replace it with a republican socialist regime.

Arrival of the new Governor General

Halifax, December 9.—The Parliament with Earl Grey aboard entered the harbor at one o'clock this morning. All steamers in the harbor blew a welcome. Cannon from forts and warships roared and the city was ablaze with electricity. The Governor landed at eight-thirty o'clock.

Y. M. C. A. FOR EDMONTON

A meeting of men was held in Robertson Hall last evening in the interests of the Young Men's Christian Association. Prof. Riddell presided.

A report was presented by Mr. Race, chairman of the canvassing committee that has been working for the past week, in which he stated that $5,400 had been subscribed, although $5,000 had been the amount attempted. This is a splendid showing, and since such success has resulted, it was thought by Mr. Irving, general traveling secretary, that the amount could be further increased. Dr. Jamieson moved that the amount be placed at $8,000, which was seconded by Mr. Casely.

Mr. Thom said that there was something more than the amount of money to be considered. A definite understanding as to the nature of the organization should be had, that is, as to whether there would be billiards, a gymnasium, smoking, etc. Mr. C. M. Tait coincided with Mr. Thom. Dr. Smith thought it well to meet the enquiries being made as far as possible. Mr. J. I. Mills had never seen smoking or cards in a Y.M.C.A. Mr. Ellis thought that something near the fact, as to smoking, etc., should be decided on at an early date. It was the smokers and the card players that the Association should be after, Mr. Rea expressed the view that the Y. M. C. A. should be an aggressive institution. Rev. Mr. McQueen sympathized with the view that the institution should be put on the broadest lines possible as regards smoking and billiards.

The chairman then put the motion which was to aim at raising $8,000, which was carried. Further discussion was continued by Mr. Blaney as to the Christian character of the association. It was explained by Mr. Irving that no outside associations had any power regarding the local organization, it being controlled by its own membership. The hour being late, the discussion was laid over, and the present committee empowered to continue its good work in raising the $8,000.

The Feeding Value of Rusted Straw

Nor-West Farmer: When the wheat rust first struck the western grain fields this year the Nor-West Farmer, realizing that its effect upon the feeding value of the straw would be a matter of very great importance, began to interest itself to ascertain, if possible, just what that effect would be. Samples of clean and badly rusted plants were gathered from a field at East Selkirk. These were sown on the same day, grown within a few feet of each other and under exactly similar conditions, and in many cases were taken from the same sheaves. A large number of these clean and badly rusted plants were sent to Prof. F. T. Shutt, Ottawa, chemist for the experimental farms of Canada.

It was found that the kernels of the rusted samples were less than half as heavy as those in the clean straw, but a number of constituents which give to grains their principal feeding value were contained in unusual quantities in the straw. Crude protein, which, as Prof. Shutt says, contains all these nitrogenous compounds of food that go to repair waste, form blood and build up muscle and tissue, and to which the high value of concentrated foods is due is shown to be present in rusted straw in more than three times the quantity contained in the clean straw. In fact, as the Farmer points out, the rusted wheat straw was really richer in this important constituent than is ordinary timothy hay. This is quite the opposite to what most farmers would have expected but its explanation is that during the latter part of the life of a wheat plant it has practically ceased to feed upon the soil and air, and its energies are occupied with the task of transferring many of its most important elements from the stem and assembling them in the seed. When the rust strikes the plant, this process is arrested, and much of the already elaborated food remains in the straw, thus accounting for the shrunk appearance of the grain. This is a very important thing for our farmers to know. In drawing its conclusions on the matter, the Nor-West Farmer says: "It may be that the rust itself would tend to give to the feed a deleterious effect when fed to stock, and thus detract from any advantage in feeding value which rusted straw might appear to have, judged only by its chemical composition, but unless such is the case, rusted straw is undoubtedly of greater value than if it had not been the victim of the attack. The effect of the fungus is somewhat comparable with cutting the straw while it is yet green. It is possible to secure suitable material for the test, we would like to see our experimental farm at Brandon make a test of rusted straw and clean in a feeding experiment."

—There will be skating to-night, commencing at eight o'clock. The usual hockey hour from seven to eight will be dispensed with to insure better ice for the skaters from eight until ten o'clock.

—The Curling Club had a meeting in the rink rooms last evening. There was a large attendance, and upwards of twenty-five new names were added to the membership of the club. A very successful season is the prospect.

—Free Press: Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence, of Peace river, after a lengthy visit to friends in Boissevain, were in Winnipeg on Tuesday, en route way home. Mr. Lawrence, who is farming extensively in that distant region, is enthusiastic in his praises.

—Mayor Short and Jno. A. McDougall left yesterday morning for Chicago to represent the city in a conference with F. W. Morse, first vice-president of the Grand Trunk Pacific railway company regarding the entrance of the city by the G. T. P., and the location of its divisional shops here.

—The 20-cent stamp has just been added to the latest Canadian series bearing the King's head. The post office department draws attention to the fact that a large number of private and pictorial cards are being mailed in Canada without having any postal stamp fixed. None of these cards are forwarded to their destination.

—Regina West: The water is expected to be turned into the pipe line within a couple of weeks. A delay is being caused by the non-arrival of several valves for the pump, and the water cannot be turned in until these are fixed, or the power house would be flooded out. Several people are having the water connection made, but not much can be done in this respect until the arrival of the brass fittings, which have now been on order for a couple of months. When these arrive this work will be pushed ahead as long as the weather permits.

—Free Press: The first section of Mr. J. A. Macdonald's exploration party for upper Peace river left Edmonton Oct. 3, and reached Fort St. John, carrying six months' supplies, Nov. 1. They mailed a letter there in Winnipeg on that date, which reached the city Nov. 25, thus constituting a record trip between Edmonton and this point, both for transportation and mail. The balance of the party will leave Edmonton, proceeding by sleigh and dog train about Dec. 8. The trip will probably occupy at least forty days to the same destination.

—Free Press—George McMillan, of the department of the interior, passed through the city yesterday, on the way to Edmonton, where he will be engaged subdividing townships in the adjacent country. The steady pressure of immigration is compelling the subdivision of land in every direction from the western metropolis, settlements being made in anticipation of future railway construction, in all parts of the country. A large force of men is being employed and the work is proceeding with great rapidity in order that the land may be in readiness for the great influx of settlers expected next year.

Ottawa, 21st Nov. '04.

To whom it may concern:—This is to certify that the bacon supplied to the Messrs. Revillon Freres by the Messrs. Hall & Gallagher, of Edmonton, for Treaty No. 8, was of the very best quality and in my opinion was cured to stand the rigour of the northern climate as well as any other bacon that I have seen going into the northern country; and it is with great pleasure that I recommend any one needing bacon to give the Messrs. Hall & Gallagher's bacon a trial.
